Church of England graveside service including burial		£450
Church of England service followed by burial in churchyard		£565
Utilities		£60 (average)
Verger		£50 (average)
Organist		£90 (average)
Church of England fee for a service in church, crematorium or cemetery		£217
Church of England fee for interment of cremated remains		£182
Cemetery fees: Each cemetery sets their own fees which means they can vary significantly. A non-resident often has to pay more than a resident. Generally, cemetery fees are split into two sections:	• Exclusive Right of Burial (This means no one else can be buried there for a predetermined number of years and gives you the right to be able to install a headstone after the funeral).	Guide price for a resident: £150-1,534
	• Interment fee (The cost of being buried in the cemetery, usually including the grave digging).	Guide price for a resident: £415-921
Catering: There are so many variables it is impossible to give a price, it may be the cost of tea and coffee if you choose to have a gathering at your home address or considerably more if booking a venue with a full buffet available. The number of people attending has a heavy influence on price.
